Ceremony of Installation (All stand):

All: We are gathered together here to share ourselves;
With openminds and open hearts, we expand to the growing, the living world.
To know ourselves and each other deeply;
To give and to receive. (All join hands)

Joan Burns, Chairman of Prairie Society: After three years of living and struggling together, we in the Prairie Unitarian-Universalist Society choose to bring a minister into our group. We wish to include this man with us in order that we may all grow, living and struggling as before, rather than that the congregation may follow where our minister leads. We have a tradition of self reliance, not only in the Prairie Society, but in the greater liberal religious community of which we are a part. This tradition, coupled with a clear knowledge of our interdependence, has brought us to an experiment in a new kind of ministry, a ministry of mutual responsibility, mutual concern, mutual struggle, mutual growth, mutual learning. For this reason we of the Prairie Society wish to celebrate the inclusion of our new minister, David Meyer, in our group. We have asked him to join us in our community life and to bring his life to our community. ~~Therefore, following my lead, we all together ask~~

Will you, David Meyer,
Join the community of the Prairie Society
To share with us
As member and minister
Our struggles and triumphs,
Our conflicts and failures,
Our works, hopes, and dreams,
Our joys and celebrations?

David Meyer: I do join you, gladly,
With excitement and eagerness
For the unknown times
We move toward together.

All, following Joan Burns: So you are our minister: welcome.

David Meyer and Joan Burns join hands with the rest of the group for a
