WORLDWIDE UNITARIAN SOCIAL ACTION

Helping people take control of the forces that shape their lives-----is the thrust of the Unitarian-Universalist Service Committee, a private, non-profit organization for social change-around the world. The committee helps establish: community action for minorities, health clinics around the world, housing opportunities, an entire educational facility in Kenya, legalaid and bail money in the United States, and many other programs.

How does all this affect Prairie? A spokesman from the Service Committee will present the Sunday program at First Society on November 19. A few representatives from Prairie are invited to join in the rap with him at the free luncheon that day. Call Betsy Roberts if you're interested.
