RELIGIOUS EDUCATION COMMITTEE would like to thank at least ten people for sharing, in one way or another, in an exciting program in February. In addition to the great regulars: Sarah, Melinda, Ruth, Ron, and Steve; thanks go to Hermine Davidson, Pat Watkins, Roland Parrish, Ron Slagough, Paula Elkins, Betsy Roberts, Al Nettleton, Richard Perry, Evie Werner, and Sidney Mannering for sharing in assemblies, the nursery, field trips, etc.

The answers to Pat Cautley's riddle of the imaginary examples of Individual Initiative, attached to the last issue of the newsletter, are as follows: #'s 3 and 15 were "made-up." # 4 was our own Dan Willard; #6 was Rachel Carson; # 11 was Aldo Leopold; #'s 7, 8, 9, and 12, 14 were fellow Madisonians; # 13 is Paris; and # 10 is Denver.

PAPER RECYCLING: Don't throw our trees out in the trash! It is economically feasible to recycle the "slick" magazines (Time, Newsweek, etc.) along with most of the mail you throw away every day.

Pat Cautley has 5 barrels in her garage which, when full, will be picked up by the scrap dealer. Money earned for this "scrap" will be donated by Pat to Prairie. Barrels will be labeled, and different papers go in separate barrels. Magazines, white paper, colored paper (including brown mailing wrappers) must be separated. No plastic labels, no newsprint, no wax or plastic coated paper. Call Pat at 238-5373 if you have any questions.

In view of the fact that only one person evinced an interest in the environmental impact of the citizen input to the Goals For Madison project, the discussion group I had planned and the participation of Prairie as an entity will not take place. However, I would like to bring to your attention the fact that survey questionnaires for the general public will be available at every fire-station and public library in Madison from March 11-25. Please contribute your valuable insights toward shaping the future of Madison. . . .Pat Watkins.
