UPCOMING

Friday, January 7, 7pm: "Affluenza," the prize winning television show, first shown on PBS on September 15, 1997, and rebroadcast several times since then, cuts to the heart of the UU values which manifest themselves in the 1999 GA adopted Study/Action issue "Responsible Consumption as a Moral Imperative." Lay Minister Pat Watkins will rent the sixty minute video for showing at Prairie and will supply nibbles and coffee/tea. Additional treats are welcomed. The video should elicit good discussion, and form a lead-in for the January 9th Sunday service.

(January 9 continued) other four areas deal with ways in which we UU’s can move toward voluntary simplicity and challenge the level of our own consumption. This Sunday’s program will focus on the latter, and will consist of small group discussions of what we do, have done, and can do to minimize our own individual consumption in some prime areas, after which we will share our conclusions with the congregation as a whole.

Sunday, January 16: Warren Hagstrom and Doleta Chapru visited Korea in October and will report on their visit to the country. They will have something to say about prosperity, the changing mother-in-law problem, middle-aged men under stress, brassy older women, food, Confucianism, temples, and things like that. A few slides will be shown.

Attention Prairie Musicians – Celebrate Ellington!

Sunday, January 23, 2000: Service will be devoted to the life and music of Duke Ellington. Everyone is invited to play or sing Ellington’s compositions, or compositions made famous by him. Building Security is breached

Doors have recently been found unlocked and left ajar. It is imperative for us all to protect the security of our property. If you are among the last people in the building – it is YOUR RESPONSIBILITY to assure that windows are shut and all three exterior doors are locked. Please be sure everyone is out of the building when you depart.

First Call for Help

The Caring Committee has been established to help Prairie members in need. The types of support offered are writing notes, rides, telephoning, preparing food, home visits, child care, support for people dealing with life crises (e.g., grieving), tape delivery, and as a community resource list. The primary contact has a list of volunteers with specific support roles. January’s primary contact is Al Nettleton 238-6053.

Dorothy Wetherby and Duke Ellington

Dorothy Wetherby, who died in 1990, was a caring and complex person loved by many of us. A couple of years before her death she suggested to Doleta Chapru and Warren Hagstrom that Prairie devote a Sunday service to the music and life of Duke Ellington. Now, after a decade, we will act on her suggestion on January 23.

Shortly after her death Prairie established the Wetherby Fund to assist members of our Prairie community with emergency needs. Over the years the Fund has been able to help several people with their problems.

Now, however, the Fund has a balance of less than $150. We cannot help anyone pay the typical monthly rent in Madison, utility bills, or emergency travel to a distant city. At our program on January 23, those attending can help rebuild the Fund balance. Contribute if you can; bring a checkbook.

Are the tablecloths clean yet?

If you have finished laundering the round tablecloths, please return them to the meetinghouse. Thanks.

Listen to Our Ad on WORT 89.9 FM

Thanks to all who contributed, Prairie will have 13 airings of its ad on WORT radio during the early part of the new year. Our ad can be heard during the period January 2-16.

Since repetition is important, the ad is scheduled to run on Pacifica News, January 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 from 5-6 pm; and on Public Affair, January 10, 12, 14 at noon. In addition, it will be run 5 more times on other WORT programs. For specifics on other times the ad airs, call Karen at 259-0556.
Notes from Religious Education

The last service project Sunday resulted in our youths creating 40 school kits for the American Friends Service Committee’s Literacy Project in Haiti. We sent pens, pencils, and paper to a region of Haiti where 90% of the adults cannot read. Thanks to our youths for their help; let them know how much we value literacy.

And now a word about Nifty-Gifty:

Many, many thanks to all the people that contributed to this annual event. We used our resources wisely. Thanks to Kathy and Robin who masterminded it. Thanks to all the adults and high school students who gave words of wisdom and support to the gift creators. Our hats are off to Paula! for her cookie project and to Kerry! for her picture frame project. We created garlands, ornaments from cookies, pinecones, and egg cartons, key chains, treasure boxes, gift tags, wire decorations, pomander balls, and pen “pals”. This is always a fun and treasured event.

OWL Overnights

The OWL Programs will have overnights February 4-5 and March 17-18 from 6 pm to 4 pm.

Jewelry Found!

A piece of jewelry was found in a jewelry box donated for Nifty-Gifty. See Randy Converse for a prompt return.

Wanted: Ceremonial Readings

The Prairie Ceremonies Committee seeks poems or short readings appropriate for weddings, gay/lesbian unions, child dedications or memorial services. If you have a special piece, please photocopy or print it on an 8½” x 11” sheet of paper and give it to Doleta Chapru at a Sunday service or e-mail it to Dchapru@aol.com. We can also use suggestions for music, either the actual music or the name of the composition and, ideally, the composer and publisher.

Many workshops built around the musical theme and workshops designed for youth of the district will also be offered. Registration deadline is March 31, 2000. Holiday letters of 1999 are still wanted

If you usually write a holiday letter to send to friends and family, consider sending that extra copy to Prairie. There is a folder on the back table to store the letters. If you are a long-departed friend of Prairie who still gets this Prairie Fire, how about sending a copy of your Christmas letter to Prairie? This is a great way to share our lives.

IN THE COMMUNITY

Breast Cancer Recovery Foundation

BCRF has been providing “Infinite Boundaries” retreats for women living with breast cancer. Healing is focussed through writing, physical wellness, sexuality and art. This year they have planned a Winter Series of four mini-retreats for breast cancer survivors. These events are held January through April at Saint Benedict Conference Center in Madison. For details call 608-821-1140.

Martin Luther King Day Observance Celebrations

The King Coalition invites community members to participate in a variety of events marking the annual celebration of Dr. King’s birth:

-- Community Choir rehearsals at Mt. Zion Baptist Church on January 11 and 15th for a performance on Monday the 17th call the church for details.
-- Annual Free Community Dinner at First Methodist Church on January 11 and 15th beginning at 5:30 pm.
-- Birthday Celebration and Youth Recognition, January 17th in the Capitol Rotunda at 12:00 noon.
-- City and County observance, Monday, January 17th at the Civic Center beginning at 6:30 pm.

TEST YOURSELF:

PART OF THE SOLUTION OR THE PROBLEM?

1. Americans generate 4 million tons of trash each week (more during the holidays). Do you compost? Recycle? Donate?

2. The average American wraps 20 gifts during the holiday season. Do you unwrap your gifts carefully, and reuse the gift wrap next year? Do you cut the torn paper which wrapped the big gift and use it to wrap smaller ones the next time around? If everyone recycled the wrapping from only three of their gifts, the paper saved would cover 45,000 football fields.

3. If every person were to throw away a single bite, 8.1 million tons of Thanksgiving turkey would be wasted. Remember those starving children your parents used to tell you about? Don’t let your appetite be bigger than... your stomach. Do you throw food away, or only take what you are able or want to eat?

5. After the annual New Year’s eve celebration on Times Square, the New York City Sanitation Department works overtime to pick up 42 extra tons of garbage. Aren’t you glad you only watched it on television, and that you don’t have to pay the taxes necessary to pay this overtime? Moral: don’t litter! Do you ever pick up someone else’s litter and drop it in the nearest waste receptacle?

Homecomings
Homecomings is the Bed and Breakfast Travel Directory for UUs and all religious liberals. Homecomings has helped UUs form a web of travelers and hosts across the US, Canada, and some other countries since 1981.

Homecomings is accepting applications until 1/31 for Host Listings in the 20th Edition (April 2000 - April 2001). Call (954) 346-4727 for details if you have a private or semi-private room to let. You could earn some money while you host religious liberals in your home.

Homecomings will be offering the revised travel directory later in the year.

(Editors note: If you like to travel and meet other Unitarian-Universalists, as I do, Homecomings may be for you. Marilyn and I have used Homecomings listings for each of the past few years with satisfaction. Some places are more deluxe and some hosts are more fun or interesting than others, but aren’t we all.)

Our Beliefs
This year the high school class is studying the seven principles of the UUA. The first thing we learned is that this is a set of principles for our congregations -- to which we as individuals affirm. What do we believe? Our youth were interested in finding how to explain Unitarian Universalism to their friends when we all do it differently? To find a starting point I recommended an essay in an old UU pocket guide, “Our Beliefs” by Rev. David O. Rankin (which I would like to share). In it he describes how UUism has similarities of organization, tradition, and belief with other religions based upon our receptivity to the surrounding culture(s). He illustrates how we differ in our ranking of values and finds that people who associate with our churches do have a unique value pattern described as self-actualizing, intellectual, independent, ethically committed, and this-worldly. That the genius of our faith is the recognition that religion is not an isolated segment of our experience, but our whole BEING relating to the world in a search for meaning – in the joy of discovery. He notes that while we may not all share a standard of religious belief we do share a set of beliefs which he summarizes as:

“We believe:
1) in the freedom of religious expression;
2) in the toleration of religious ideas;
3) in the authority of reason and conscience;
4) in the never-ending serach for Truth;
5) in the unity of experience;
6) in the worth and dignity of each human being;
7) in the ethical application of religion;
8) in the motive force of love;
9) in the necessity of the democratic process;
10) in the importance of a religious community.

And for those who prefer a shorter definition for the purposes of explaining to friends and relatives: “Unitarian Universalism is a progressive movement toward perfect freedom of thought and speech in religion, within the context of a democratic religious community.”
