DETAILS OF COMING PROGRAMS

Sunday, January 8
Steve Vorass will present the first of two programs, "Evangelical Christian Casserole: What leftovers went into today's strange-looking meal?" The contemporary Evangelical Movement has developed a distinct narrative construct, a story that gives meaning to the lives of millions of Americans.

To those outside the movement, some of the beliefs of Evangelicals can seem rather strange. This presentation will explore the sources for this narrative construct, from Intelligent Design through the Rapture and the Glorious Appearing. Steve will follow with another program February 5, about the archetypes of antichrist and apocalypse.

Sunday, January 15
The Rev. Jody Whelden, Consulting UU Minister, presents "Religious Humanism: A UU Bloodline." Religious Humanism was developed and practiced within Unitarian Universalism, going back many decades. Today's remarks will reflect on that history, the contribution of Humanism to liberal religion, and the much-debated state of things today.

Sunday, January 22
Rachel Long will begin her six-session lay ministry, "World Religions - Know Your Neighbor." New Prairie member Rebecca Malke-Eligenti, who has a Bachelors' degree in world religions, will be assisting with this ministry. They will bring in leaders and practitioners of different religions to educate us about their religion's core beliefs and practices. Most importantly, they will help us understand how their faith enriches them, and what values bridge the differences between us.

Our guest speaker for the first session on January 22 will be Reverend Margo Peterson. She will speak on "Christianity from a Lutheran Perspective." Martin Luther was a well-educated monk who struggled to see love or justice in God as presented by the Catholic Church of his day. Luther's radical life change and subsequent teachings and preachings still affect the Christian faith and challenge its followers to live a life of humble forgiveness and obedience.

Margo identifies herself as a life-long Christian in the Lutheran tradition. She attended Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago as a "second career" student. Margo was ordained as a Lutheran pastor in May 2003 and accepted a call to St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Warren, Illinois, where she presently serves. She grew up in Milwaukee, and now resides in Monroe, Wisconsin with her husband and three sons.

OUR SOCIETY

HOLIDAY NEWSLETTERS
If you write a holiday newsletter for friends and family, we invite you to share it with Prairie members by putting a copy in the decorated folder on the back table of the meeting room.

BOOK CLUB SELECTIONS
On Sunday, January 8, the Prairie Book club will discuss Dreams from My Father: A Story of Race and Inheritance by Barack Obama, the junior U.S. Senator from Illinois. This personal memoir starts when, Obama, son of a white American mother and black African father, learns of his father's death in an accident. He traces both his mother's and father's ancestry and comes to terms with it. Barack Obama graduated from Harvard Law School in 1991, where he served as the first African-American president of the Harvard Law Review. He has worked as a community organizer, civil rights attorney, and law professor. 408 pages.

Book Club selection for Sunday, February 5: The Bookseller of Kabul by Asne Seierstad. This Swedish war correspondent spent 5 months living in the home of the bookseller Shah Mohammad Rais just after the fall of the Taliban. Shah Kahn, as she calls him, was a complex, clever, prosperous, educated, liberal man who sold books "through the regimes of the Afghan kings of the 1970s, the Soviet invasion and the subsequent guerilla war, the Mujahadeen coup, and its overthrow by the Taliban."

He had been imprisoned many times, had his shop destroyed, and twice he took his family to Pakistan for safety's sake. However, Seierstad says he ruled his family like an autocrat and she found it difficult to deal with how he treated the women. He had discarded his first wife and married a 16-year-old woman.

Interestingly, the bookseller reacted very explosively to her book. He said he told her that everything in the book was true, but that it was too honest.

MEDITATION GROUP FORMING
Please join us for meditation at Prairie on Wednesday evenings, starting January 11.

We will start at 6:00 p.m. and meditate for 1/2 hour. Please be prompt, since the time is short. We will sample silent and guided meditation, and possibly toning meditation, on different weeks. We will finish in time to participate in the Midweek Potluck, if you wish.

There may need to be a small fee to join the group. You may join at any time. Hope to see you there!

INTERFAITH HOSPITALITY NETWORK WEEK JANUARY 22-29
Prairie next assists Midvale Lutheran in hosting homeless families the fourth week in January. This crucial service organized by the Interfaith Hospitality Network (IHN) depends on the many volunteers who provide food and support. New volunteers from Prairie are welcome, and children also have the opportunity to participate. Please contact Paula Pachciarz to volunteer or for more information.

RIGHT RELATIONS TASK FORCE NOTES
On Thursday, December 15, the Task Force on Right Relations met for the first time. Attending were the Rev. Jody Whelden, Rachel Herr-Hoyman, Larry Nahlik, and Mary Somers. Nancy Schraufnagel will also be participating. Our job is to create a draft document on interpersonal relations within the congregation before the end of May.

We each discussed why we are volunteering for the Right Relations Task Force, and some of the issues we hope to address.

We also outlined some rules to govern ourselves during these group meetings, which will occur twice a month:

- Sharing issues without naming people, gossiping, or making judgments on others.
- Confidentiality
- No cell phones
- Light Chalice at beginning of meeting and have reading
- Ensure everyone has a chance to speak on an issue
- Remember, our job is to create a draft agreement
- Speak from our own experiences
- If we want to share stories back in task force, ask permission and if you can use name
- Develop a process that provides opportunity for input

Please feel free to share your views on Right Relations with any of the members of the task force.

The January meetings will occur on the evenings of January 12 and 26.

CHRISTMAS OBSERVED AT PRAIRIE
Forty merry souls attended our first-ever Christmas evening vespers service. Many participated in the readings that included the story of the birth of Jesus from the book of Luke and numerous selections from A Child's Christmas in Wales.

We sang 5 or 6 Christmas carols and Maggie Siegfried and Jeff Costello led us in John Lennon's "Happy Christmas (War is Over)." A simple folk dance led by the Briggses and the lighting of a menorah and blessings by Katrina, Orange and Eric also greatly contributed to the service.

We sang two hymns with only handheld candles and the tiny lights of the Christmas tree and enjoyed the candlelight so much that we transported the candles and our singing voices over to the Fitchburg site after a refreshment break. Two Unitarian snow people added to the group—they haven't "signed the book" yet but seemed to enjoy our continued festivities, as we all did.

GUEST AT YOUR TABLE CAMPAIGN IS ON
We passed out boxes on Sunday, January 1, to kick off the Guest at Your Table campaign. This is the 30th year that UU communities nationwide have participated in Guest at Your Table to educate our community about human needs and human rights, and to share our blessings.

This year the program emphasizes the work of UUSC, the Unitarian Universalist Service Committee, changing the world through these actions:
- strengthening workers' rights
- protecting the right to safe, affordable water
- defending civil liberties and democratic processes
- preserving the rights of vulnerable people after disasters

Place a Guest at Your Table box where you have your meals and keep it there for several weeks. During that time, imagine a different guest at your table with you each week. As often as you can, insert coins or bills into the box. We will collect the boxes next month at Prairie.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

HOW CAN WE MAKE A PATH?

I hope everyone had a good holiday season. We lit our last Chanukah candles yesterday and today we are taking down the tree. We’ve decided to celebrate the Chinese New Year—as we heard yesterday from the teens, there are several weeks before it starts. Maybe we can link our Guest At Your Table box to that holiday. It is nice our UU beliefs give us these options, and responsibilities.

After the service on Christmas evening, a group of us went to Prairie's new land to play and be part of that special spot. It was nice weather, almost warm, with cold wet snow that was great for making SNOW PEOPLE. The snow was deep—so much that we had trouble walking from the street onto the sidewalk. We had to cross six feet with snow one foot deep. That was hard, especially for short people and anyone using a cane. At first, several folks just walked or jumped across, each meeting their own need. Then, we had an idea to make a path, with some people first tromping down the snow in the same area and then everyone crossing there. No one was especially burdened or bothered—in fact, some folks didn't even know they were part of "the path process." Soon, we had a wide, straight walkway, which was welcoming, safe and easy. We didn't use the same plan for those playing in the snow. We wanted candles and statues and people scattered around with no paths!

You may see pictures of that night. I hope you notice the snow figures, holding their candles in quiet contemplation of the light and dark. I hope you notice the two groups of people, some playing in the snow and some standing on the sidewalk, each participating in their way. I hope you notice the path, made by the people leading and following as planned by the elders. Our UU faith is like that path—no one needs to get his or her shoes wet unless they want to!

The RE Committee is meeting twice this month as we are figuring out some big questions. The upcoming classes include "Our Whole Lives (OWL)" which is a family-oriented discovery for multiple ages of sexuality and relations. We are defining how this year’s Mystery Friends (was also called Secret Friends) will work—can anyone volunteer to be the adult coordinator of this fun process?

We need your input and your caring support. Is there an activity or lesson that you can share with the Prairie kids—maybe by facilitating one of our activities?

Thank you. See you in church.

HELP URGENTLY NEEDED FOR KATRINA APARTMENTS
Some of you may already be aware that I have been asked to empty all the apartments that were not used for the Katrina evacuees, plus the apartments that evacuees moved out of. Four of those apartments were left in very bad shape. Last week I asked for volunteers through e-mail and received 1 adult volunteer and 10 teens. They helped so much, but this Saturday is my last chance to get things done.

It has been a lot of work and I am exhausted. I cannot tell you the chore of emptying storage apartments, basements, and unused apartments.

On Saturday, St. Vincent De Paul is coming with a large truck to take items. I need volunteers who can help out on Saturday morning from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. packing dishes, glasses, bowls, and very small items. I need it would be helpful if volunteers could bring a boxes and newspaper for packing, and tape.

I really need your help. You can reach me at 575-4130 or just show up at 2333 Allied Drive on Saturday. Thank you.
